

UK STUDY TOURS IN 2022

Planning for UK study tours in 2022 is at an early stage. Potential study tours include (1) Birdoswald (excavations), Whitley Castle/Epiacum & Carlisle (Tullie House Museum); (2) Chester and Rossett (excavations); (3) Bath, Doynton and Littlecote.

Destinations and their grouping into tours are subject to change and dates have not been set. Consequently, it is not possible to include booking details with this edition of ARA News. When tours are organised, we will put details on the ARA website (www.associationromanarchaeology.org) and we will automatically send details to all members for whom we have an email address. If you are not already receiving emails about study tours and online talks by email, we encourage you to send your name, membership number and email address to ARAEventsUK@outlook.com.

Advertising and booking the tours by email helps to reduce postage costs. However, we recognise that not all members have an email address, so we will also send details by post to those members who request this by completing and returning the form below. Members who did this for 2021 will automatically receive information about the 2022 tours by post.

The overseas study tour to Thessaloniki originally planned for May 2020 is going ahead in May 2022 and details are being circulated separately. We also expect that the study tour to Tuscany and Umbria will go ahead in October 2022: details of this tour will be circulated later.

The programme of monthly Zoom talks is continuing and details of additional talks will appear on the Events section of the ARA website and will also be advertised by email.
