

SELF-DRIVE EARLY WINTER TOUR TO THE ROMAN BATHS AND WALKING TOUR OF ROMAN BATH

Saturday 12th November 2016

Tour led by Mike Stone and Anthony Beeson

£30 per person

Members of the Association for Roman Archaeology have not visited Roman Bath for some time. Since our visit there have been further excavations in the justly famous World Heritage city, along with major plans to further advance the visitor and educational facilities at the Roman baths. Curatorial staff have arranged a unique private viewing for ARA members to see parts of the Roman baths and underground areas, which will be included in the new Roman Baths Foundation Education Centre and the World Heritage Monument Interpretation Centre. The remains we will view are not open to the public (see ARA News 34, pp41–43).

The group will enter the baths through the main entrance, assembling by 10:30am. We will be met by a member of the curatorial staff for an introductory talk and then, depending on the number of members attending, we will split into two groups as the areas we will inspect are not large. There will also be time to view the Roman baths and archaeological displays before we break for lunch (not included). After lunch we will regroup at 2:00pm in front of Bath Abbey for a walking tour of Roman Bath, lasting for up to two hours. The tour will emphasise recent archaeological work to the west of the Roman baths, around the Cross Bath area and other areas to the south and east.

A donation from our visit will be made towards furthering the completion of both the Foundation Education Centre and the World Heritage Monument Interpretation Centre.
